CRITICAL ISSUES & SOLUTIONS

1. 'To Theo new house' - EUR 18,573.40 (28.5% of spending)

Status: Largest single expense category with unclear purpose

Impact: Consuming more than 1/4 of total spending

Action Required: Immediately clarify if this is a loan, gift, rent contribution, or other obligation

Potential Savings: EUR 1,200-1,700/month if reduced or eliminated

2. Savings While in Deficit - EUR 14,146.80/month

Status: Internal savings transfers while running monthly deficit of EUR 966

Impact: Mathematically impossible to sustain long-term

Action Required: Freeze ALL savings transfers immediately

Potential Savings: EUR 1,415/month can be redirected to deficit coverage

3. Uncategorized Spending - EUR 12,709.94 (19.5%)

Status: 328 transactions with no category assigned

Impact: Cannot identify hidden spending problems

Action Required: Immediately categorize all transactions

Potential Savings: EUR 500-1,000/month once problem areas identified

CONCLUSION & NEXT STEPS

Your financial situation is serious but recoverable.

The Problem: You are spending EUR 966 more per month than you earn (119.5% of income), resulting in a cumulative deficit of EUR -10,624.63. Without immediate action, this deficit will reach EUR -16,420 by May 2026.

The Solution: A 3-phase action plan targeting EUR 4,600/month in verified savings through expense reduction and income clarification. This will achieve break-even within 3-4 months and full financial recovery within 12 months.

Your Next Steps (This Week):

- 1. Clarify and reduce "To Theo new house" transfers
- 2. Freeze all savings transfers immediately
- 3. Categorize all EUR 12,709.94 in uncategorized spending
- 4. Create a detailed monthly budget
- 5. Implement daily spending tracking

The choice is yours. The decision is today. The action is this week.
